

RICS Matrics Young Surveyor of the Year Awards

We are pleased to announce our Certificate in Residential Valuation graduates Andy Xitsas and Emma Walker have been shortlisted as finalists for this years RICS Matrics Young Surveyor of the Year Awards.

Andy says “I am absolutely thrilled to have been shortlisted as a finalist in this years RICS Young Surveyor of The Year Award 2021. . . to be named amongst so many passionate and talented people as well as national firms is absolutely incredible! Thank you to everyone at Sava, I can't emphasise enough what a big part your whole team have had in getting me here. You are paving the way of a bright future for many future surveyors!”.

Emma says “Absolutely delighted to have been shortlisted for an award alongside the most amazing surveyors! I am a little bit gobsmacked, but genuinely just grateful to even be considered. The biggest well done to everyone shortlisted. I am grateful for the opportunity to have completed the Sava course which gave me the confidence to start my own business”

It is great to see that our course is producing excellent Valuers who are being recognised at these prestigious awards and we wish both candidates the best of luck!

The certificate is designed for existing RICS members who qualified via a different pathway but now want the knowledge and skills to be able to offer residential valuations. It provides a mix of training and assessment and maps against the requirements of the RICS Valuer Registration Scheme.
